

Discovery of two German believed-to-be-lost flag related books

Andreas Herzfeld FFIIV FFRC

a) Proposals for German colonial coats of arms and flags

- Discovered by Harry D. Schurdel
- Published by Andreas Herzfeld in Flagmaster 136(2010)
- In 1911 Dr. Wilhelm Heinrich Solf became as state secretary of the German Colonial Office the possibility to design and propose coats of arms and flags for German Colonies
- The Kaiser approved all proposals of coat of arms on 27.05.1914 (1). Some of these proposals were a little bit corrected on 21.06.1914 (2).

2

- Deutsch Ostafrika (East Africa) – lions head affronté
- Kamerun (Cameroon) – elephant's head affronté
- Deutsch Südwestafrika (South-West Africa) – afrikander bull affronté and a diamond between its horn
- Togo – two cobras under a cycad
- Samoa – waves below and three palms
- Neuguinea (New Guinea) – a bird of paradise
- Kiautschou – no proposals, because it was under jurisdiction of German Imperial Navy.

b) Flag regulations for the Channel Islands under German occupation during WWII

Discovered and published by Andreas Herzfeld in Flagmaster 157(2016)

This order came into force on 5th of July 1941

The Fishing boats of the Channel Islands must fly the white flag with the boat number, and not the national flag.

BLUE PETER. When coming in or going out

RED FLAG. Coming in straight away, leaving nets and anchor

YELLOW FLAG. Follow the Patrol boat

INTERN. ANSWER WIMPEL [PENNANT the author] WHITE-RED. Warning flag

In the parallel published order in German is a 5th flag included! The flag INTERN. OTTO [OSCAR the author] has the meaning: It is better to gather.

c) 1th believed-to-be-lost flag related book – TRIPLECODEX
Common Signal Book for Triple Alliance (Germany, Austria-Hungary, Italy)

Discovered and published by Andreas Herzfeld in “Die Signalflaggen und Signalbücher deutscher Kriegs-und Handelsmarinen seit 1815“ 2014

The Triple Alliance was an agreement between Germany, Austria-Hungary, and Italy. It was formed on 20 May 1882 and renewed periodically until it expired in 1915 during World War I. Germany and Austria-Hungary had been closely allied since 1879.

The last (5.) agreement was formed on 05 December 1912. One year later on 23 June 1913 followed a secret navy treaty.

The works over Common signal book
Triplecodex (T.C.) began in 1901.

Leading by Italian Navy Captain G. Ettore Colteletti with support by Victor von Baselli-Süßenberg (Austrian navy) and Oskar Wentzel (German navy) was designed the “Codice di segnali per gli Alleati”.

Works finished and Triplecodex was printed in Berlin in 1914. It was never in use!

d) 2nd believed-to-be-lost flag related book –
Flaggenbuch* 1893
(German navy flag book)

Discovered by Jörg M. Karaschewski in 2018
Published none, first at ICV 28 in San Antonio

First this book was in possession of Highest Command of German Navy (1).

Later it was going to the Navy Station of Baltic Sea (2).

After issue of Flag book 1905 it was given up to library into the Historic Collection of Navy station of Baltic Sea (3).

Between 1894 and 1902 issued at minimum 10 amendments.
They were pasted into the book.
I.e. we don't have the original condition from 1893.

Amendment Nr. 10 from 5th January 1902

The Flag book is divided into five parts:

- Standards of German sovereigns
- Flags of German Maritime states; standards of foreign sovereigns; navy ensigns, merchant and command flags of foreign maritime states
- Pilot flags
- Flags of yacht and sailing clubs (all maritime states)
- Flags of shipping companies (all maritime states)

It is given only reference to “Flag and salute regulations”! The problem is, in use were the regulations from 1878, where included abolished flags after Wilhelm I. death in 1888.

New “Flag and salute regulations” came in use only in 1895.
